

The Irish Lighthouse Series

Over ten years in the making, a postcard of every lighthouse on the Irish coastline. Many of the colour pictures were taken from helicopter flights, others by boat trips as I tried to get as close as possible to each lighthouse using some of the best camera equipment available. Numbered 1 - 96, each postcard has detailed text information on the reverse. Sold as one complete set with 3 extra making 99 postcards, also by individual county, singly or in the Rock Station Set.

JOHN EAGLE

Artist~Photographer

Painting from inspiration absorbed by living on the Beara Peninsula. Oils on canvas, and photographic prints made by hand to exhibition standard. The first person to make a postcard of every lighthouse on the entire Irish coastline.

Ireland's Lighthouses A Photo Essay by John Eagle

My new lighthouse book published by the Collins Press 2010. A guide to every major lighthouse on the Irish coastline, plus most of the others. Forward by Stuart Ruttle, Chief Executive of Irish Lights. launched in Kinsale by Tom MacSweeney. Available in most good bookshops.

Signed copies available from my website:
www.JohnEaglePhotography.com

I am very proud of my new book, Collins Press have done a super job with my text and photographs. Also available on my website is my first book 'An Eagle's View of Irish Lighthouses' published 1999. Covering 50 of the lighthouses it was designed to be rolled up to take with you on your visits to lighthouses.

John Eagle Photography Workshops

Spend a day taking pictures on the Beara Peninsula from my viewpoint, see how I create an image, what I look for and set about going to get what I want. The workshop is all about being creative, knowing what to avoid and making the most of what is available.

Lighthouse Tours

Come on my annual tour of Cork and Kerry lighthouses, going out to spectacular places like Skellig Michael and the Fastnet. I offer advice on taking pictures and we have a great time, taking to the water in a variety of boats getting up close and personal with the illuminated guardians of the Irish coastline. Grand tour of South West Ireland. Tour the peninsulas of Dingle, Ring of Kerry and Beara visiting the ancient monuments, standing stones, lakes and the wild coastline.
